

HUMAN DEVELOPMENT IN CENTRAL EUROPE

Each graph shows the United Nations' Human Development Index (HDI). The index is a number between 0 and 1, with 1 being the highest rating of human development.

Note: The data presented here is from the UN Development Program's 2006 and 2001 Human Development Reports. Due to changes in calculation methods, the data is not always strictly comparable from year to year. These charts are intended to show general trends based on the best data available. For a discussion of methodology and the many components of HDI, please see the UN's Human Development Reports (<http://hdr.undp.org/>).